

SCHOLASTIC SUMMER READ-A-PALOOZA

READ · CELEBRATE · GIVE

Scholastic Summer Read-a-Palooza unites kids, parents, educators, public librarians, community partners, and booksellers in a nationwide campaign that celebrates reading for fun while improving access to books during the summer.

For 2020, we are excited to share a brand new kids experience in Scholastic Home Base, a free digital destination which offers full books, live events, and games in a safe community for readers! Kids will be encouraged to track their reading streaks™ to earn rewards and unlock book donations, with the goal of donating 100,000 books by July!

There's a few more changes you'll want to be aware of. Read on!

WHAT'S CHANGED?

FOR KIDS

- Kids will now go to scholastic.com/homebase to create their own personal account.
- Instead of logging reading minutes, kids will now be encouraged to track their reading streaks™ in the Read-a-Palooza zone within Home Base. But don't worry, the option of logging minutes still exists through Home Base, as do downloadable reading reports.
- And remember, reading streaks help unlock book donations. For every two days in a row kids track their reading streaks, they'll donate one book.

FOR ADULTS

- Adults will no longer have to register and create an account on scholastic.com/summer. Adults can go to scholastic.com/summer for free summer reading resources, including book lists, articles, podcasts, and more.
- Since the kids experience will live in Scholastic Home Base, all printable reports will come from your child(ren)/students. This means all adults will have to request any reading reports directly from the child/student. All reports are easily accessible and printable through their Home Base dashboard.

TOP HONORS

- We will no longer name the Best in State schools, or Top Public Library and Community Partner locations at the end of the campaign. Instead, we are excited to continue to increase book access by empowering kids to unlock a donation of 100,000 new children's books.
