

What is Positive Behavior Intervention & Support (PBIS)?

PBIS is a different approach of handling behavior. In a school setting, it cannot be assumed that students know correct behaviors. Children come from different backgrounds and cultures that view behavior in their own unique ways. When a child misbehaves, the school views it as an opportunity to teach appropriate behaviors and reinforce schoolwide expectations and rules. Students are rewarded when they display expected behavior.

Although the focus is to reward positive behaviors, consequences are still given for repeated inappropriate behavior. These consequences may include:

- A warning
- Telephone Call Home
- Time Out
- Loss of Privilege
- Lunch Detention
- Counseling
- Afterschool Detention
- ISS/OSS Suspension

How can parents help with Positive Behavior Intervention & Support?

Parents and guardians play a crucial role in the development of a child's behavior. Here are some suggestions you can use at home to help your child embrace PBIS:

- Be a good role model. Children often imitate behaviors they see at home.
- Talk to your child about his/her day.
- Keep communication between you and your child's teacher active throughout the year.
- Focus on the positive choices your child is making and celebrate them.
